

Seth Forecast for 2014

Let me begin our yearly Forecast with a definition of subtext. Now Dear Reader, I am assuming that you are one of those who feel they are called to seek out this information. So you are this Seth Entity Human Counterpart that I speak of in my books. As such, we have a history. We meet throughout your perceived past, present and future timeframes to learn together. If you feel this connection, I direct your attention to an Inner Senses experience as you read these words. The printed words will create a little vignette for you on the inner screen of your consciousness. This is the subtext that I speak of with regards to these new communications of mine. The subtext, the hidden meaning, will be different for each reader. It will specifically illustrate your Issues and Lessons as a human individual with particular personality aspects. I think that will suffice as an introduction. Now the Forecast...

The Post Shift Environment

The Post Shift environment is a space, a head space, if you will, in that it is a state of consciousness that the perceiver constructs for themselves and then witnesses this perspective by embodying it. To embody a Precept such as this, the student tries it on for size, so to speak. They use the creative imagination to act as if the concept is quite true. During this process, of course, the belief system is energized and enlarged, as more and more ideas that were once thought of as preposterous, blasphemous, or even crazy, are accepted as probabilities. Awakening we call this process of approaching the personal truths of the individual reality.

So where are you, Dear Reader, in this process of awakening? Consider your answer while I continue on my soapbox for just a few moments...

Trends

Please allow me to first describe to you what I see as the ongoing dynamics of Reality Creation that influence you and your expression in physical reality. These trends I have spoken of before in my earlier forecasts. Now in this Post Shift environment they are indeed coming to fruition. These trends are there for all to see, in other words. They are blatant and obvious even to the Shift Deniers. That would be some humor for you Mark.

Ancient Wisdom - Personal Empowerment

Dear Reader, the Ancient Wisdom communication stream is informing humanity in the dream state. Yes, this is impossible, yes this is crazy, yes this is also quite true. During the dream state, humans everywhere are remembering their power. They are, therefore, becoming empowered thereby. And so we see that great numbers of you are awakening from your sleep states with a profoundly altered perspective. This communication stream of the Ancient Wisdom has informed the originators and leaders of the world religions over your history, for example. It is inspirational, these informative energies. Individuals are inspired and thus motivated to do things differently. In this way, the spiritual leader awakens to their responsibility to lead by example, perhaps, showing others that the individual is central, the individual is powerful, the individual creator is the basis for the spiritual movement. Now you can clearly see this renewal of perspective in the practices of your new Pope. This fellow feels a responsibility to lead by example and honor the human individual practitioners in the church. Yes, admittedly, there are public relations agendas afoot here, yet I also see the honest efforts of an awakening human to heal old wounds.

The Shift - A Cycle of Renewal

Yes, you have experienced a thorough transformation in the Third Dimension. You, as a part of the whole of humanity, have been literally submerged in your Issues and forced to consider your Lessons, the reasons you are currently in human form. Can you embody this notion as I have described it to you? If you can accept this as truth, please look for your personal meanings within your mental landscape, the subtext again. Yet the Shift is one of shifting consciousness, and so, because all of your reality is composed of this evolutionary consciousness, all of reality is transformed and renewed. The air you breathe, the ground on which you walk, ALL of your reality is different in this Post-Shift dimension. Now in the new year this trend will continue and intensify. Those stragglers on the path of awakening, those who drag their feet, will be compelled to look within and begin the journey in earnest. And in the collective, the countries of the earth will be transformed in all of the domains of living: social, political, economic, spiritual. Revolution is in the air and revolution will be on the agenda in the new year.

Changing of the Guard - The Visionary Leader

The Changing of the Guard we have spoken of for many years now. I trust that you are beginning to see what this dynamic entails. On the individual level I see it as a matter of personal empowerment. The Ancient Wisdom material is made available to each of you while you sleep, as I said, and as you engage in ritual observations of the Divine. You are remembering your power to create reality, you see. With this remembrance comes the responsibility to exercise your powers for the highest good of yourself and others in the collective. In the new year many of you will walk your talk, so to speak, and become politically active in your collectives large and small. All of you, all of the awakening ones will feel this pull to enter leadership roles. A visionary is simply a human with an intuitive sense of what is going to happen in the future. Obviously, this faculty would come in handy in the leadership role. Now in terms of countries, large collectives, I see this Changing of the Guard dynamic as leading to the transformation of all the institutions of mankind worldwide. You will see what I mean. It is already apparent to those who have eyes to see, to coin a phrase we enjoy.

Secrets Revealed - Healing the Past

This dynamic is also quite apparent in the lives of those of you who are awakening now. Briefly, as you face your Issues and learn your Lessons, you invite your repressed past to reveal itself. All of the shameful, negative events from the past are examined and healed in the current moment. On the individual level, you become integrated and strong through this natural process. On the level of the collective, the leaders are found to have “feet of clay.” The weaknesses of leaders everywhere are brought to the attention of the average citizen. Now in a sense, you can see some of these weaknesses as very normal human aspects that you all share. But the bottom line here is that the individual, the leader, everyone must address these secrets with Courage and with Loving Understanding. This is how you heal the past, you see, by facing it, by admitting responsibility in the reality creation, by forgiving yourself and perhaps others if possible, and moving on.

Goddess Rediscovered - GA Remembered

This dynamic will strengthen in the coming year, as the Divine Feminine becomes ascendant. If you remember my material from Mystery Civilizations and other books, you may note how the bleedthroughs to the Divine Matriarchy of the past continue to inspire women and men to defer to the feminine aspects. The relationship of mother to child is taken as the model for all relationships moving forward. Authoritarian models are disintegrating under the influence of this re-emergence of the Goddess within the collective consciousness. It is inevitable that these new systems emphasizing cooperation rather than competition are implemented as the old structures fail.

Expecting the Worst - Anticipating the Positive

Now the average citizen is well aware of the manipulation strategies used by governments to keep the populations in fear. This was not true just a few years ago. But now in this age of awakening, it is possible to drop the fear of punishment from authorities, the fear of death, and other irrational and unnecessary fears, and replace these negative states of consciousness with a positive expectation for a Loving future. From my perspective this change is being expressed in the growth of alternative media that reveal the truth to their readers. The Negative Media have been a source of political control within your systems for decades. The movement towards citizen journalism counters these Negative Media propagandists and allows for a fresh perspective to be presented, one that offers hope rather than despair.

Isolationist – Neo-tribal Collective

In last year's Forecast I described the healing effects of bleedthroughs into your current timeframe of neo-tribal influences. These influences are simply memories of lives lived in tribal collectives in the past, primarily, but also in the future, if you grasp my meaning. As you know, you create your reality within your current moment by choosing from all probabilities within your consciousness, including the bleedthroughs, those you will use to create your current Personal Reality Field. Thus, you are being inspired to come out of your isolation to join in groups of various kinds. I again ask you to look at youth culture worldwide. The neo-tribal influence is evident there. I see this transformative dynamic of drawing people out into the community to participate in group endeavors to better the individual and the whole, as strengthening in the coming year. I will speak more on this topic in the politics segment.

The Social Domain

Neo-tribal Influences

In the Social Domain neo-tribal influences from your perceived past act to galvanize a response of individuals to threats from authorities, governments, security forces and other factions of the ruling elite of your world. Now let me unpack this evocative statement, if I may. I am attempting humor here Mark.

Mark: I see, Seth. Thanks for lightening up.

From my perspective, it is as though an alert has been sounded within the collective consciousness of oppressed peoples everywhere. A line has been crossed. A tipping point has been reached, to offer another metaphor here. Something has happened in the perceived world collective that triggers the survival instinct, you might say, of the race. Now the subjugated peoples are becoming empowered quite naturally through the Shift in consciousness that I have described to you in my new books. This is a given here in our discussions. And on a personal level, in your families and other collectives that make up your broad society and your civilization, your empires, you see, the breaking point has been reached. Now let me continue if I may... You are a human being, and as such, you care about your personal welfare, most certainly, but as a member of a family, let us say, with a mate, with children perhaps, with extended family members, and so on, you feel a natural sense of responsibility for the welfare of these dear humans, do you not? And so as this primal warning is being felt by ALL in the Third Dimension within what you might call “the shared mental environment of humanity,” security becomes a paramount notion to consider.

Spirit of the Earth

From whence does this alarm come? From my perspective, the alarm comes from the Earth herself. This planet of yours is in deep trouble, as humanity continues to take her resources and defile the soil, the air, the water. And so this alarm, this panic is transmitted into your consciousness by what you might call “the spirit of the Earth.” But the elites and other authorities play upon your mass security Issue to control you through the promises of greater police protection, more surveillance, more excursions into “hostile” lands where hide the terrorists, and so on. Effectively, you mistake this primal warning from Mother Earth for a threat from without, the Other, as we call it in the books. Thus you project onto the other, particularly those of dark skin, this fear. Your security state then steps in to “protect the homeland” with military might.

Instinct

But this collective experiencing of a challenge to the security of the group is indeed a type of re-emergence of instinct. I do not wish to carry the comparison too far, however, but just as the animal consciousnesses, that of herds of antelope, for example, have an instinctual collective sense of danger when danger arises, so too does the human collective encounter this Feeling Tone within consciousness, the collective consciousness. That is all I am saying here. The comparison is valid. Let me continue then... just as some of the herd, shall we say, perhaps some of the slower, less advanced members of the herd, do NOT heed this alarm, you see, some of the human collective do not hear this security alarm. And like their animal counterparts they pay a heavy price. I am certain you get my meaning here.

Now there are awakening ones and there are sleeping ones in your human collectives on the planet. The awakening ones are attempting to spread the message of alarm to the sleeping ones. They are having some success, but it is not talked about in your mass media to any great degree and so most of the population is still peacefully sleeping. In their trance of mass media consumption, you see, the majority sleeps with their eyes wide open.

In conclusion:

It is difficult to resist the neo-tribal influences. It is suggested that you surrender to these archaic desires to be in community with others. As you do let go of your ideas of cynical individuality, you will begin to feel the New Consciousness of the collective awakening spirit emerge. Your identity is not diluted or lessened one iota when you connect with others in this time of transformation. On the contrary, you are exalted in this act. Although it may seem counter intuitive, you are taken up in frequency, even as you diminish your ego/intellect. Your consciousness expands and obtains new powers of perception. Admittedly, the surrender to the unknown does take Courage. It is my suggestion that you practice Courageously letting-go of the ego/intellect. I have provided numerous techniques in my books for you to accomplish this task.

Predictions for the Social Domain

Brotherhood and sisterhood are the watchwords for new developments in the Social Domain. In 2014 great numbers of you will join in collectives in your neighborhoods to create community. From this common bond develops the strength in unity that allows individual members to feel heard, endorsed and honored. This is the Visionary Leader phenomenon being manifest as the average citizen leads by example. Thus, everywhere new groups of aware citizens will gather to discuss what to do in the new world, the new consciousness. These are positive developments. The cynicism of the past gives way to a new perspective of Loving Understanding. Now I see these developments occurring across the board in all countries around the world as social revolution transforms the global community.

The Political Domain*The Failure of Capitalism

Now capitalism is failing worldwide, but particularly in the US, as you may well be aware. However, as this system of economic control gives way, your political structures will fail also. These systems are based on one another. Feudalism is dying out finally in your lifetime Dear Reader. What will replace your feudal politics, then, is up to you and your fellow humans. At this time it is important to dream into reality an improved political structure that will serve and lead your people out of the age of feudalism. Now as Capitalism fails, as feudalism fails, American Imperialism will also fail. Comparisons to earlier civilizations come in here. The simple fact is this: a civilization that depends on constant war and the conquering of other peoples to take their resources is a doomed civilization. The average citizen does not want war, nor do they wish to capture the natural resources of others in foreign lands. The average citizen yearns for the simpler times when all were allowed to produce what they needed individually and locally. The neo-tribal effect will be apparent here in the coming year as the carefully constructed pretense of national, state and local politics is found to be counterproductive. By this I mean, there will be a wholesale renovation in the political domain. Yes, there will be kicking and screaming as the ruthless naysayers are driven from office. However, even these parasites will feel a sense of justification. Even the politically corrupt will admit that the cleaning of the House, to make a pun here, has been long overdue.

The Visionary Leaders will lead this movement on all levels of the collective, beginning with Soul Family relationships as we call them, the genetic and alternative families, in other words, and ending with state government. In my forecast of last year I suggested that states rights in the US would strengthen as Federal rights would wane. I assert now that this trend will continue and blossom in the coming year. Now the Visionary Leaders can see that it can be done. They are motivated to work for the highest good of themselves AND their constituents.

Changing of the Guard

This influence will have the effect of replacing authoritarian males that serve their own interests only, with female Visionary Leaders. As I have said, the Divine Matriarchy of the past is having a conversation with your probable future. From this conversation, in your current timeframe in this moment, thousands of women will become motivated and inspired to lead in collectives of all sizes. The Divine Feminine is ascendant. The idea of authoritarian leadership in the political domain is waning. A new cycle of manifestation is well underway. Again, I am not telling you something you do not already know. This is apparent to anyone awakening at this time.

The Divine Matriarchy

What do these new models of leadership look like? Let me say a few words about what you have in store for yourself as a race of self governing humans. Because you are receiving the healing influences of the Divine Matriarchy while you sleep, in your waking reality you will be compelled to quite naturally consider a completely different mode of conducting yourself in groups. Just as the Social Domain will be thoroughly renovated by these influences, so will the Political Domain be brought up to speed, you might say. For the greater good, groups will cooperate in female-led experiments in governing. Remember, the relationship of Loving mother to child is the model here. In this way, the leader treats constituents as Loved Ones, worthy of protection, as a mother would protect her children, you see. Obviously here, the military is in for some drastic re-conditioning. No mother wishes to have her children go to war to be killed. For this reason, the ideas of war and aggression as solutions will be discredited for what they are: philosophies, strategies of the oppressors of mankind. Basically, your social and political groups will be restructured to match the systems perfected in the Divine Matriarchy of GA. Please read in my books the specifics, if you wish further information on this matter.

In conclusion:

The coming year will see new representation for the average citizen. The great majority of humans have been abandoned by their political leaders. This is true for most of the world. It is difficult to admit this fact. Yet as these secrets are revealed, as the truth of your political systems is made known, Visionary Leaders, including vast numbers of females, will come forward to lead your collectives by example. They will create legislation that assists people rather than politicians, governments or corporations. The changes will come quickly. After the fact, many will be quite surprised as to how abruptly the changes occurred.

Predictions for the Political Domain

A new type of leader will emerge on the political landscape. These Visionaries will be instrumental in leading the countries of the world in a new direction. Again, the Old Guard is dying. New ideas regarding what constitutes adequate leadership are forming in the collective consciousness. In the death throes of feudalism will be born the new systems of governance that call on all citizens to lead and to make their voices heard. All of the people will be represented in these new models of governing. In the US, the legislation that has been created to restrict the rights guaranteed in the founding documents will be discredited and removed.

The Economic Domain

The coming year will be a difficult one for the American dollar. From my perspective the signs that the dollar will fail sooner rather than later are quite clear. These signs are energy indicators that I use to sense what the probable futures might hold for you on Earth. Last year I scolded your leaders for instituting austerity measures that directly punish the most vulnerable among you, including the elderly, children, the disabled and the poor. Those of us in my domain notice the extreme hubris of your leaders, as they enjoy great wealth even as they slash the budgets for social programs, for example. There are countless examples of how your leaders in the modern world are engaged in a form of genocide against their own people. We see what they are up to and we know their plans. They will attempt to crash the world economy in the new year. They will succeed partially.

The Neo-renaissance

Now in one of our recent public lectures, I suggested to one fellow in the audience, that, even though there did exist a very perilous state in the US economically, politically, socially, that there was indeed hope for a better future. I suggested that the old Guard was falling, and the old systems of feudal control would be consumed by the new incoming energies of transformation and revolution. Let me speak a bit about what that may entail in the coming months.

Trade and Barter

Dear Reader, the old ways of servitude to a master are giving way abruptly. Let me give you an example. My friend Mark here has recently joined a Time Bank. In this small collective in his neighborhood, average citizens join together to TRADE services. Mark will trade his expertise as an independent publisher, as a writer and editor. In return he shall receive something worthwhile, something he does not have expertise in, something he will accept in exchange for his giving. These reciprocal relationships will become very valuable in the months ahead, as the economic structures that support the status quo begin to weaken and fail. The strain of supporting numerous wars, (I am referring to the US here, primarily) has forced your unscrupulous leaders into printing money to pay the bills, money that has no backing. These leaders, as I said, are driven by self-interest. They are busy gathering their moneys in preparation for the fall of the financial system that they know is coming.

Therefore, leadership must come from within. You must call on yourselves and your neighbors to pull together and help one another. This is a great deal more satisfying and valuable than the old model. This leadership comes on the local level, such that, neighborhoods and cities are empowered to sustain themselves independently. I spoke of this in a past forecast. De-centralization is a trend I see continuing into the future. Concentrations of power, such as in agribusiness, for example, in which one corporation controls the growing and harvesting of thousands of acres of crops, will be broken up. Individual farmers will be empowered to create food for the local cities and neighborhoods. Again, as urban decay forces the populations to abandon the big cities, you will enjoy another back-to-the-land movement similar to that of the 60's.

In conclusion:

From my perspective, 2014 will be a back-to-basics year. The individual livelihood, the concept of making a living, will be radically transformed from what you experience currently. Many of you can feel it. Those psychics among you in the industrialized nations, can you not sense these dramatic changes that await you? The household, the common collective, will be compelled to adapt to the new reality. The average citizen, then, distinguished from the elite, the billionaires that control your world, will adapt to a new way of doing things in the economic domain. Now the awakening ones will thrive. The practitioners will thrive. Those entrepreneurs who cater to the needs of the awakening collective will thrive. The worker will find themselves forced to find new ways to create value for themselves and for their families. The emphasis will be on the local community, wherein one plies their trade, or seeks out capital for a project that will help the local community. This is the way I see it from my perspective. Additionally, the need for spending the greater part of one's resources on acquiring status symbol Reality Constructs will weaken, for obvious reasons. And at once I hear the complaints from those who are completely dependent on these status symbols. Might I suggest that all of you who take this awakening to heart, and begin to simplify, to create value for one another on the local level, will be glad you did? In terms of a broad Lesson for the collective of humanity in the richer countries of the world, but especially in the US to understand and learn, this would be at the top of the list. The individual awakens to what they need to thrive. The collective of individuals does likewise.

Predictions for the Economic Domain

Barter and trade will become commonplace worldwide, even in the developed countries. The US dollar will fail but will be resurrected via the Secret Government that controls the global monetary system. Gold will continue to increase in perceived value during the year with a few setbacks. Worldwide, the idea of value will be addressed, such that, human beings will individually decide on what they need to create abundance. They will then rely on local businesses, local resources, to fulfill their needs.

The Spiritual Domain

Generalist Spirituality

The trend toward a generalist spirituality continues to manifest in 2014. The very idea of what constitutes a spiritual practice is being deconstructed by the awakening ones. As they choose what to keep and what to reject, multitudinous forms of worship and acknowledgement of the Divine are born. Again, you can sense this movement strengthening. From my perspective, this demonstrates the blossoming of Ancient Wisdom practices in your timeframe. Of course, each may be different. Each spiritual group practice, church, or individual practice may appear to be unique, one of a kind, you see, but because they are based on the truth of the Ancient Wisdom, they are each fortified with the energy stream of this repository of powerful, inspiration, and magical thought, image and emotion. For this reason, all of these practices have value and power. They each are born from the same philosophical seed that we call the perennial philosophy in my books.

Neo-tribal Influences

As you assemble in your local communities to individually and collectively answer the call to Visionary Leadership, the opportunity comes to meet others who have your worshipful tendencies at heart. This is a very natural process that occurs as you sort out your place in the broader neighborhood and local community. I see that many of you will begin to attend some form of observation of the numinous in the coming year, whether that you will join a meditation group, enjoy yoga and martial arts exercise, ecstatic dance, or the more formal observances of the various gods and goddesses, spirits and archetypes found in your community churches. However, I do see less of a reliance on the intermediaries. Many of you will no longer settle for second-hand information and inspiration from priests. When you are in your churches, for example, I see you as seeking personal revelations and visions much as the original saints and other founders of the world religions have described they have done. Thus, the neo-tribal dynamic pulls you, Dear Reader, out of the soft confines of your easy chair and onto a yoga mat in a recreation hall somewhere in your community. This is just one example of how the average citizen will heed the call to seek out the Divine and manifest simplicity within the life.

Divine Feminine

I spoke of the Pope earlier, and will now let you in on a secret. This Pope and other higher ups in the Catholic Church as well as other religious leaders in the nations of your world, are responding to the transformative energies of the Divine Feminine communication stream. Let me be blunt. The Pope can read the writing on the wall, in a sense. The leaders of that collective have a sense of what is coming to great them. They have contributed to and overseen the growth of this authoritarian collective that now stands as a testament to greed, perversity and un-holiness. Quite naturally and inevitably, the evolutionary consciousness that creates all – All That Is – puts into motion this balancing, healing dynamic we and others have called the Divine Feminine. My definition is somewhat different than others, however, and I would like to tell you about the differences. The psyche of the human individual on your planet at this time is bisexual in nature. It is very naturally and ultimately a unity of the masculine and feminine principles. Now over the generations, the tendency has been to denigrate and dis-empower the female. This occurs at the hands of males who do not recognize or value their innate femininity, the Divine Feminine within them, you see. And so the scale is very much unbalanced toward what you perceive of as the masculine qualities. A moment...

Justice for All

At this time the male leaders everywhere are afraid. They have denied the feminine component all of their lives, let us say, and now they are faced with the damage they have done to themselves and to their world. And of what are they afraid? Healing, justice, sharing, emotion, transformation. They are afraid of the Divine Feminine and what the future holds for them once the Goddess has done her work. Obviously, this holds true for religious institutions, but also for all institutions and collectives in which authority and competition are favored over intuition and cooperation.

In conclusion:

In 2014 I sense that the Divine Feminine will be pervasive within the collective of modern humanity. As ALL of you, men and women, begin to resonate intentionally with this Gestalt of Consciousness, ALL of you are brought up in frequency. You literally transform your timeframe in this ritual observance, such that, in time, everything in your physical world looks different. The female aspect becomes evident in everything you see. Can you sense how the before mentioned ideas of healing, justice, sharing and transformation may have a better chance of manifesting in this more-balanced world I am describing to you?

Predictions for the Spiritual Domain

The Ancient Wisdom remembered will transform the idea of what is spiritual practice. I see that the notion of Spirit Guides, genies, angels and the elementals being available for consultations at all times, becoming accepted by the average citizen. New Age spirituality will grow and become acknowledged as a leading force for good in the world. The Catholic Church will enjoy a return to favorability under the leadership of the new Pope. Other of the world religions will provide the same sort of enlightened leadership to pull in constituents. This phenomenon will continue for the next several years as humanity awakens more fully.

Probable Negative Manifestations

Weather Modification

In our last Forecast we spoke of the out-of-control weather modification programs of your world governmental and military establishment. We suggested that this entity currently creates seeming “natural” disasters to achieve certain geo-political goals. This is becoming common knowledge. In the new year I see that whole countries will pull out of this program as their citizenry begin to awaken to the truth and object to this foolhardy venture. Unfortunately, this awakening may not occur until after the obviously man-made creation of a super storm takes place and results in the loss of many thousands of lives.

Manufactured Crises

I see the distinct probability that the Shadow Government that controls the governments of the world will create new crises in order to frighten the populations. Again, this is not new information. Your governments have been manufacturing crises for decades in order to justify spending billions of dollars on the military and on surveillance. In 2014 I sense that a series of these manufactured crises will be constructed in the US and Europe, to justify the establishment of martial law in some urban centers. Your military and your governments will experiment with the Internet Kill Switch. Your Negative Media propagators will collude with your military and governments to create crises that are in fact imaginary constructs. A small percentage of you will still believe the lies. The majority, however, will not be deluded by the propaganda.

Global Revolution

As the Visionary Leaders worldwide seek to create justice in their individual countries, the military and police forces in these countries will attempt to destroy the movement. This is occurring now and will continue throughout the coming year. In 2014 the revolutionary forces will be fortified by the addition of average citizens wanting to improve their lives. The world revolution will go mainstream, in other words, as more and more humans become Courageous enough to admit that they are through with the feudal system.

Earth Changes

As the world revolution and social renaissance manifests, and as the counter forces resist these changes, the turmoil of human thought in the collective consciousness will create the potential for Earth Changes of various types. Specifically I see a moderate probability for powerful earthquakes to emerge in 2014. These Earth Changes will occur along the Pacific Rim and will have the potential to devastate parts of the North American coastline in the US.

The resurgence of volcanic activity worldwide will continue and strengthen in 2014. You will see what I see if you can visualize all of these separate sites as being indeed connected to the inner Earth. When one site becomes active, then, other sites may be expected to become active. I see a moderate but growing probability for a catastrophic eruption to occur at any one of the sites experiencing renewed volcanic activity at this time.

Your sun will continue to evolve and renew itself over the next 12 months. The effects of this balancing transformation will be felt by every human on Earth. The electromagnetic relationship between the Earth and your star is changing now. That is all I will say about it at this time.
