

The Seth Forecast for 2017

Copyright © 2016 Mark Allen Frost All Rights Reserved

Welcome to my Forecast. Now the task lies before you, does it not? It is quite obvious what is occurring at this moment in your collective realities. However, let me explain what it is that I see from my perspective.

A moment...

Your leaders have successfully postponed the inevitable. The desire to keep their great stores of wealth and their limitless power and control over the people and the planet has trumped the free will of awakening people everywhere. Yet make no mistake, the awakening continues. The Average Citizen is becoming empowered at this time; empowered to be their own authority and not the pawn of the ruling elites of your world. This you already know. However it surely does take a redirection of perspective to notice this fact and keep it paramount within consciousness.

Within and Without

Yes, within is where you direct your attention in these matters. For on the outside, in the collective, in the illusion created by the Negative Media, your Negative Leaders and others with a financial stake in the outcome of this awakening drama, you may be prone to give up hope and surrender. Or perhaps you are angry now, feeling as though you were cheated out of something and your desire is to go out into the streets and fight for what is right.

Of course you may do what you will, for you have a free choice in all matters within your reality. Yet first principles above all else may govern your behaviors. And so you go within to seek your own council. There you may find that the situation is not dire, not hopeless, not anti-human. There within your Higher Centers of Awareness, then, you make plans for your next move. And when you do act, Dear Reader, you will create with the full force of the Divine on your side; the energies of All That Is will tune-up your creative efforts, in terms of frequency, you see, allowing you to conceive, create and implement for the highest good of all, including of course, for your own good, for your own peace, prosperity, health, happiness.

The Negative Media

Your inner authority, your connection to the Ancient Wisdom, allows for communications with the highest authority of all: All That Is. This stream of information, once activated through ritual, meditation, spiritual practice, and so on, allows you-the-student to glean from the panorama of information that confronts you in your modern world, those pieces of truth, those facts of the way things truly are for you and your world. So this connection serves you in examining the media before you, primarily what we refer to as the Negative Media. This empire consists of propaganda in the form of news, human interest stories, educational programs, in fact, as I said, most of what you have come to call the media, or the fourth estate, or entertainment television. But this connection to Ancient Wisdom source also provides you with a very valuable form of communication, one that you might call Energy Personality Transmission. As you make yourself known in the unknown reality by seeking guidance within, you create a relationship with All That Is that finds form in a gestalt of consciousness we call the Energy Personality. It is a type of etheric guidance that you personalize with your ideas about what you need in an Inner Counselor. You ask yourself, then, “What attributes must my Guide exhibit such that I can believe in and engage in the encounter?” Now this is all old material for my students. However, since the Forecast from 2016, I have found that even my dedicated students may rediscover these fundamental relationships, and find the partnership with the Energy Personality very worthwhile over time. And obviously, the new readers of my forecast may benefit also.

The Average Citizen Awakens

Yes, the Average Citizen awakens. Let me unpack that for you. The Average Citizen awakens to the truth of their world. Those citizens still entranced by their own Ego/Intellects may choose to perceive of their awakening in terms of anger, jealousy, greed and the other negative emotions. On the other hand, the Average Citizen awakening to the truth of their world through the eyes of the Soul, the Source, the Intuitive Senses, you see, explains it to themselves in terms of the positive emotions of Love, compassion, generosity etc. etc. etc. They look at the problems in the world and say, “Ah, here we need more Love and attention. Here we need to be more generous.” All of you are awakening at your particular stations of Soul Evolution, that is, to your conditions as an expression of Evolutionary Consciousness in linear time.

You might say that the Young Soul awakens now and demands their “share of the pie,” for themselves, you see, out of Ego space. The Old Soul awakens now and the first thought may be what is good for their neighbor, their friends and family, for themselves and everyone else. One perspective is not better or worse than the other. The New Soul and the Young Soul will do what comes naturally, just as the Old Soul will do likewise. This is all “grist for the mill” for All That Is. Evolutionary Consciousness is literally nourished on the positive, the negative and the in-between experiences of humans over the millennia.

I am being somewhat coy with you here, obviously. But my point is this: Feed Evolutionary Consciousness your positive loving emotions as you go about your mission in Third-Dimensional Reality. Identify yourself as the theorized Old Soul I am describing and contribute to the betterment of your world. If you do this consistently, moment-to-moment and day-to-day, you will create your place on the New Earth. Support with your positive actions and thoughts what you wish to experience and YOU WILL EXPERIENCE IT.

New Earth/Old Earth

The obvious question now is this: Where is the New Earth of which you speak? My answer: The New Earth, what we have called the Best Case Scenario or the Positive Manifestation in the books, exists right where you are now, Dear Reader. It is directly in front of you and all around you. You are in it, even as you ask for directions, you see. Even as you may deny its existence from your status quo perspective, it is still there. Your issue may be that you are relying on the collective to determine your beliefs, your perspective, your reality creation efforts. For this reason it is imperative for you, if you wish to awaken, to extract yourself from the herd that attempts to create the status quo reality moment-to-moment.

As you dream of a potential New Earth from your vantage point on the Old Earth, you begin to find evidence of it as you let go of preconceived ideas of the reality of your world. Your world is plastic, in truth. It is not solid. It is a creation of projected, thought, imagery and emotion that you “paint” onto your Personal Reality Field. Each second of this projection through the portal between your eyes holds the potential for change, for the creation of something different. Thus, as you attempt to help with the creation of fear in your collective by being afraid and by finding evidence in your created world for being afraid – justification - you always have the potential resident in your consciousness to do things differently. Instead of fear, project Courage. Instead of hate, project Love. With each positive projection you unleash the potential for transformation to the positive. You are a reality creator. It is your responsibility to consider this potential for change as real, as necessary, as possible at this time.

Negotiating with Your Higher Self

Let us assume that you are a new student or perhaps an old student and you are just now beginning to actually take this advice. What happens after you begin to consciously seek out your awakening? A negotiation begins between you and your Ego/Intellect. Again, these are the basics. Please be patient with me as I remind you of why you are in your system at this time. The forecast will be presented shortly.

Your mission on earth is to discover yourself. You are to look for and find the truth of YOU. This is done via a process of identifying your Issues and learning your Lessons. Briefly, you discover your deficits and heal them through Loving Understanding and Courage. In this regimen of awakening you also discover the truth of your reality. You wake-up to the injustices of the world, for example. You begin to feel your connection to all of humanity. You diminish this Ego/Intellect of yours and greatly expand your Soul Self.

Along the way you develop a skill around negotiating with the various parts of your identity. The Ego will tell you that you are a particular someone. The Intellect will give you facts and figures to support the Ego. If you had a difficult childhood, that wounded child within your identity needs acknowledgement and support. As you listen to the needs of these various constructs within your identity, and you begin to find a way to allow all parts to get along and to be heard, so to speak, integration happens, healing happens, Higher Consciousness happens for you, Dear Reader.

Trends in Reality Creation

As I said earlier, you are an expression of Evolutionary Consciousness and so is everything else. As you create your life on the Earth you may wish to consider the following dynamics of creation that we have identified in my new books...

Ancient Wisdom - Personal Empowerment

The Ancient Wisdom is the voice of All That Is, the macrocosm. You are the voice of your personalized expression of infinite Evolutionary Consciousness, the microcosm, as you seek to discover the Human Virtues. (This is the ideal, now. Please do not be afraid of these high sounding concepts.) As you go about looking for your reasons for being, for existing, you connect with this Ancient Wisdom Source and are guided, empowered, awakened. This becomes quite obvious after you consider it for a while, after you study it.

The Shift - A Cycle of Renewal

The Shift to the Fourth and Fifth Dimensions is now ongoing for those of you who are working on yourselves, on a spiritual path, learning about the practical applications of the Human Virtues in your daily lives. You are participating in a cycle of renewal in which old ideas that no longer serve you are given up, sacrificed, for something more helpful in your current situation. Thus, renewal, in this context, is about letting-go completely of restrictions, out-dated modes of behavior, self-defeating thought patterns, and so on. Do you see?

Changing of the Guard - The Visionary Leader

I assert that there is an evolutionary change occurring within the consciousness of the Average Citizen. You are awakening to your power to direct yourself. You are becoming your own authority as you go within to seek advice. As you begin to get answers to your questions from yourself, from your Higher Self, you see, the need for authoritarian leadership from others diminishes. Why be subservient to an authoritarian leader if you can quite capably lead yourself on suggestions from within your own consciousness? This is the Ancient Wisdom connection I mentioned earlier. The awakening ones are becoming Visionary Leaders by modeling the Human Virtues through living them. The Changing of the Guard is that process whereby the Negative Leaders, you may know who they are by now, become irrelevant and are pushed out of office. The Visionary Leader replaces them.

Secrets Revealed - Healing the Past

The individual awakens through examining the difficult past and at last experiencing those repressed emotions, images and thoughts. The personal secrets are revealed. In a sense, the unconscious reveals to the conscious mind this explosive material. As this information is processed in the light of the current moment, healing happens. The past is healed. The current identity is healed. The shame and other negative material is transformed. This dynamic is ongoing in the collectives as well as in the private domain.

Goddess Rediscovered - GA Remembered

The Divine Feminine makes itself known within the collective consciousness. This transformative source contains memories from lives lived in the mystery civilization of GA and other matriarchies. All of you have lived some of your lives in these female-centered societies. Now as the patriarchy collapses under its own weight, it is only natural that these reincarnational memories come to mind, to serve in the rebuilding of society. All of your institutions are failing now. The Divine Feminine influences come on a rescuing mission, of sorts. You are being rescued from your own short-sightedness. The Feudal gives way to the Intuitive and the Visionary.

Expecting the Worst - Anticipating the Positive

When you are a slave you are constantly expecting the worst to happen. You are used to this, for it always proves itself to be true. “Expect the worst for it is coming to you now,” says the master. When you awaken to self-mastery it becomes possible to let go of this self-destructive perspective. You begin to gather evidence that the future may be of a positive nature, now. Through living the Human Virtues you begin to experience positive realities, positive futures. Anticipating the positive becomes a life-affirming habit.

Isolationist – Neo-tribal Collective

The Neo-tribal energies compel the isolated student, the one living their life in front of a computer screen or television, to go out into the world in search of a collective. Kindred spirits find one another, then, in increasing numbers. Knowledge is shared, strategies created, movements are begun. What you have dreamed alone in isolation now becomes actualized through the synergy of group effort.

All of these dynamics will impact your world in the coming year. I will now attempt to compare how I viewed these energies as influencing the various domains of existence in 2016 with my current analysis of their effect on you and your world now and through 2017.

The Social Domain

My Assertions

Last year I suggested to you that, “The Neo-tribal Effect empowers the Average Citizen to remember their connection to the global tribe of humanity. The attempts by demagogues to inflame racism and intolerance will eventually fail.” This year I see a similar effect within your cultures. Remember what I told you earlier about the Young and the Old Souls?

Supporting Content

The Young Souls appear to have won. In Europe, in the US, the political leaders have used racism and intolerance to pull support from fearful, angry people. It does indeed appear that the Negative Emotions have won. However, I see this as a temporary situation... You get what you focus on. If you focus on fear, anger, lack, and you are encouraged to do so by your leaders, as a collective you will experience the outcomes of these Negative Emotions. The Young Soul, as I said before, operates out of Ego space. The intent is one of creating security for “me and my family,” you see. Other people of other races and backgrounds are blamed for what is missing in their reality. The Young Soul is arrested at puberty, in a sense, and cannot see beyond the focus on the self, on the Ego.

What would you expect the results to be in your individual families if you let the children run the household? Would you expect peace, prosperity and Love to rule within your little family? I would say, no, you probably would not expect that. The system would fail, quite likely. Eventually, and most likely, in short order, for the sake of the family, the children would be removed from positions of authority and the more responsible members of the family, the adults perhaps, would once again lead. In terms of nations, now, you are already experiencing “buyer’s remorse.” Great numbers of you in the US, for example, are regretting your decision to not support the Love candidate. You now realize you were hood-winked into creating anger and fear by the establishment candidate. You did not listen to what your heart was trying to tell you. Now you find yourselves in a perceived intolerant culture, a society that blames others and does not take responsibility for mistakes. But underneath this façade is something different.

Predictions for the Social Domain

As the Feudal System fails and is replaced by the Visionary System, the worst-of- the-worst comes up to be recognized and healed. This is happening within the individual consciousness as each of you are forced to see your deficits, your Issues, and begin to address them, perhaps for the first time in your life. In the collective, the desires, both unconscious and conscious, are projected out onto the collective field, a construct composed of your individual Personal Reality Fields.

However, the Old Souls, the responsible ones among you, see this projection onto the collective and recognize their part. They see the worst in themselves as it appears in the collective manifestation and they “own” it. They say to themselves, “I have to work on that. I have to be more Loving,” and so on. From my perspective, this time in your history is one of teaching. It is a teachable moment, this current moment, for you now as you see what you have done. The Young Souls will disavow any responsibility. That is what they do. The Old Souls will dig into the work, and attempt to improve themselves. That is what they do.

The Visionary Leaders are still waiting in the wings to lead you. They tried to get your attention in the US presidential election, but you were distracted. This collective of visionaries, however, is still the most powerful force for positive change in your system at this time. They will lead by example as the worst-of-the-worst plays out on the national stage.

The Political Domain

My Assertions

In the 2016 Forecast I said, “The Average Citizen discovers that the government propaganda is based on lies. The Ancient Wisdom is rediscovered as each person begins to look within and take their own advice. The natural phenomenon we call the Changing of the Guard dramatically alters the political landscape as Visionary Leaders continue to replace the Negative Leaders. Many of the Negative Leaders will not go quietly.” As I see it, this dynamic is still in process.

Supporting Content

The Average Citizen IS awakening. The Negative Leaders ARE not going quietly. Yet now we have the worst-of-the-worst taking charge. It will intensify until even the most complacent of you will become active. The Visionary Leader identity will be taken on by great numbers of you in order to rescue your country.

In the coming year millions of you will realize that these matters of leadership and civics are the responsibility of all. It does not do to take an hour once every few years to vote for your leaders. The establishment has taken advantage of your neglect and created an empire for themselves that serves their own needs and grants the wishes of the global elite financiers who rule your planet. Do you see what I mean by rescuing? You are rescuing yourselves from the global elite at this time.

In 2016 I suggested that, “In the New Year, awakening humans in the US and elsewhere will create new parties to reform the negligent and compromised political structures.” I believe that this dynamic is now stronger in the new political environment. Through force of numbers you will demand greater expression by forming alternative parties. This will come despite resistance from the establishment.

Predictions for the Political Domain

In the 2016 Forecast I said, “Providing you are allowed relatively free elections in the US Presidential race, Bernie Sanders will win his primary and with a female running mate will win the presidency by a landslide. The probabilities for this prediction manifesting are at 70% at this time.” From my perspective your election was fatally flawed. Your primary was not a free election by any means. This is something you know. It is not new information I am giving you here. In these matters it is wise to admit the truth, take your medicine - the worst-of-the-worst - and begin again.

By this I mean you find different more empowered avenues of expression in the political realm. You lead in your local collectives as the visionary. You form different parties and lead others as the visionary. You begin again by learning the Lesson, here, and cease the self-destructive denial and intellectualization that brought you and your country to this end.

Great numbers of you will attempt to oust the elected president. These efforts will fail. Indeed, I see the potential for compromise with the new administration to avoid this potential disaster. So I think that many of you will be surprised, and perhaps disappointed, ironically, at how cooperative the new president may be with the people and the congress.

But let me say this also: The Visionary Leader in you must confront the Young Soul - the intolerant, greedy, egotistical element in the new leaders. Remember my example of allowing the children to rule in the household? Speak your truth as a Visionary Leader - as the loving parent - in the coming year and all will be well. You will survive. For it was on the useful silence of millions of Americans that the election was taken. I hope you can see the truth in this pronouncement, Dear Reader.

The Economic Domain

My Assertions

In the 2016 Forecast I stated: “The Secrets Revealed phenomenon demonstrates to the Average Citizen that the economy is rigged in favor of the elites. They will rebel but not violently, for the most part.” Again, I see this dynamic of Secrets Revealed manifesting “to the nth degree,” as we say. It is ongoing and gaining power as it goes underground.

Supporting Content

The truth of your global financial system is becoming increasingly apparent to everyone. You might call this “the Emperor’s new clothes effect.” As the Negative Media and your Negative Leaders attempt to keep the façade in place, the revelations via the Secrets Revealed phenomenon continue to eat away at this illusion. The markets are precariously balanced on false narratives propagated by those who profit from your ignorance. Millions of you are adopting a “wait and see” attitude concerning how much faith you can put into this economy of yours. As I said earlier, you may be surprised at some of the initiatives put in play by the new leaders. They do not desire a full-scale collapse anymore than the Average Citizen. The pull, however, for the highly wealthy leaders, is to loot the treasury “legally.” Historically this is the way it is done. The new leaders will be no different than their predecessors in this regard, in my view.

Predictions for the Economic Domain

In the 2016 Forecast I stated: “Wall Street will become regulated. The minimum wage will be raised... The US will begin to broaden its manufacturing base. Gold and Silver will climb steadily and then plateau at the end the year. As the new economy grows the global elite financiers who run the old economy will not be happy.” This remains true going into 2017, for the most part. However, because your Congress and your president and his administration are all dependent on a Wall Street that functions at the bequest of the rich - for they are rich, they are millionaires and billionaires - I predict that any Wall Street regulation will be cosmetic. The minimum wage will be raised throughout the US, however, to placate the masses. The US manufacturing base will broaden, as predicted, but gold and silver will have a bumpy ride.

The Spiritual Domain

My Assertions

In my forecast for 2016 I stated: “The Divine Feminine rises within the Collective Consciousness to feminize society and spiritual practice.” This remains true. Indeed, I sense that the idea of women’s spirituality as a force for planetary transformation will go mainstream in 2017. This is a curative measure, as we say in the books. Evolutionary Consciousness brings balance into human affairs through Spirit. As women become powerful spiritual beings, heeding the call of the Divine Feminine, all spiritual practices, all religions benefit. It is as though you are all involved in a telepathic discussion concerning your Spirit, the reasons for your existence, questions of what a virtuous life may be, and so on. It is my suggestion that one day you may awaken from sleep with a decidedly new consciousness, a consciousness in which the Masculine and the Feminine are balanced. Perhaps you lacked balance before, but now - man or woman - you are integrated and powerful.

Supporting Content

In the US you support yourselves on wars of aggression. You wage war on the less powerful in other lands. You manufacture weapons and armaments and sell them to both sides of foreign conflicts, so that any prosperity your country might enjoy is based on the suffering of others. Currently, it is my suggestion that you are experiencing, as a people, now, a bleedthrough to the time of the divine matriarchy that existed thousands of years ago in what is now Europe. In this civilization, GA we have called it in the new books, Love predominated. Peace prevailed. Now, as you receive these Loving, peaceful impulses, in the dreamstate and in times of meditation, you are faced with an opportunity. As an individual you can admit the truth that you know as fact: That you are culpable, as a citizen of the US, let us say, for these atrocities of war, the products of your government and the military corporations. These impulses come in to balance the martial energies with their opposites: Love, sympathy, kindness. My suggestion is to admit your part in the negative and then do your part in the positive. I believe I will leave it at that.

Predictions for the Spiritual Domain

I see a powerful anti-war movement in the US that grows dramatically in 2017, as individuals take responsibility for their government's actions, and, as a type of spiritual practice, demonstrate, meditate, pray and manifest peace.

Probable Manifestations

Terrorist Attack/False Flag

Rogue elements in the CIA carry out a terrorist attack in the US. Negative Media blame Middle Eastern terrorist groups.

Earth Changes

"The year of the volcanoes." Many eruptions occur all around the world.

Shadow Government

The People vs The Shadow Government.

Weather Modification

Becomes a political issue. Advocates unite with political leaders to fight chemtrails.

Presidential Impeachment in the US

Unsuccessful attempts to impeach President Trump.

Martial Law

Political dissent outlawed. Communications surveillance intensifies. Militarization of police forces continues. Martial law implemented experimentally.

Secrets Revealed Scandal

Further devastating revelations emerge concerning powerful politicians, corporate leaders and celebrities worldwide.
