

The Seth Forecast for 2018

Welcome. This will be a brief forecast. A moment...

In the US you are in opposition to one another for the most part. Your leaders have successfully pitted left against right, perceived “good” against perceived “bad,” and so on. Thus it is the same story. It is always the same story for the majority. For the majority, the awakening of humanity that I have talked about in these messages for fifteen years is just a distant thought. It is obvious to those of us who observe these matters that you are allowing yourselves to be taken in by the Negative Leaders. And so you wonder when your reality will change for the better. You perceive yourselves as being victimized by your government. When will it end? When will you be free?

This is a similar dilemma that I discussed in my first book with my new collaborators. Yes, in 2002 we spoke of your similar circumstances. Now, for the majority, nothing has changed over these many years. Period.

The Victim Class

The victim, as we identify them in this context, chooses subconsciously to play the victim role. It is seldom a a conscious choice. Always Issues of self-esteem and personal power come into the discussion. For example: You are watching the “news” on television. As I have stated numerous times, the news is primarily propaganda. The Negative Media prepare their news pieces to elicit a specific state of consciousness in the viewer, one that promotes subservience to an authority, one that denies you your own personal authority and power. And so you come away from your news-viewing with an altered state of consciousness, one that we might call the Common Trance. It is a Trance State, then. It is a highly focused perspective that you then utilize to interpret your world within the next moments, minutes and hours of your waking reality.

You create your reality. This is true. And as a victim you create a Personal Reality according to the criteria of the dominators, authorities and Negative Leaders. If you look at this self-created reality of yours, as an average citizen, a member of the un-awakened majority, you would see the marks of the Negative Culture upon it.

This reality has this predominating feature: an intense desire to take direction from famous people, such as movie stars and sports figures, Negative Leaders in government, Negative Leaders in the business world, and indeed, authoritarians in all of your collectives great and small.

The followers in the Common Trance are motivated by fear and anger. They are reactionary. They fear the authorities and they are angry at others whom they have been taught to identify as the Negative Other, the un-accepted group, “the cause” of their problems.

The Visionary: You are Always Free

Now for those of you who are awakening at this time, things are different. For the Awakening Ones there comes this realization that you are always free. You always have a choice. You are not stuck in the Double Bind. You are never victimized. Let me unpack this for a moment...

Those who are awakening at this time are NOT motivated by fear and anger. Certainly they experience these emotions, for they are human beings and all humans experience the negative emotions. However, the Visionary feels the pull to become angry and afraid, but does not submit to these inclinations. Instead, the Visionary uses the negative emotions in a type of alchemy in which the negative is transformed into the positive. Anger becomes Love with a capital L. Fear becomes Courage.

This transformation is not sublimation or pretend. The transformation of anger into Love, for example, is not some type of New Age psychology. This process is the articulation of the Ancient Wisdom precept “You create your reality.” It is the embodiment of this concept, in that, the Awakening Human “holds” the Negative Emotion within them and directs it to the Heart Center for healing. The identity, the Soul Self, as we call it in the books, is positively informed through this alteration. “The frequency is elevated,” to coin a phrase we enjoy. The Visionary re-creates a type of Un-common Trance, then: an elevated perspective that allows a connection to the Heart Center, to the Higher Centers of Awareness that some call The Divine.

If the un-awakened are reactionary, the awakened may be described as thoughtful, even contemplative. The Uncommon Trance allows for a perception of the Positive Future: what we have called the Best Case Scenario in these messages. On the other hand, the Common Trance reinforces a dim view of the future, one that is based on fear, anger, Lack, despair, apocalypse, you see.

Your Mission

Briefly, I see that your role as a Visionary in the coming year is to educate the uninitiated. In other words, working through the family and then the various collectives of which you are a part, your mission, so to speak, will be to tell others how you arrived at your awakened state and give instruction, in a Loving way, on how they may do the same.

Also in service to brevity, I will not discuss the social, political, economic and spiritual outcomes you may expect in the coming year. I will leave that to you, the reader.

Trends in Reality Creation

Generally speaking, you are awakening or you are not, as I said earlier. This is a gross simplification, obviously, but it will serve us, I think, in this explanation. As a useful framework, I offer some dynamics of Reality Creation I have described in my books and in these informal forecasts...

Ancient Wisdom - Personal Empowerment

Yes, you create all that you see in front of you as you survey your Personal Reality Field. This panorama is a type of feedback from the circular thoughts, the imagery, the emotions you entertain within your mental environment in the moment: the moment of perception, you see. Nothing exists, literally, until you project it out into the field of consciousness that you call your world, your life. Now knowing this, admitting this and embodying this – feeling this in your body – gives you a sense of your innate power. As you do, you are communing with the Ancient Wisdom Communication Stream that is literally the data bank of everything that exists, past, present and future: All That Is. You become a type of divine emissary in your particular niche in space and time.

The Shift - A Cycle of Renewal

From my perspective, what we have called the Awakening of Humanity in our books, is coming to complete fulfillment as we speak. You are in it, this Shift, and you are subject to the effects of Evolutionary Consciousness as it transforms ALL, bringing ALL up to a higher frequency and renewing ALL. By resisting, by denying, by refuting the obvious changes that are occurring around you, you are simply postponing the inevitable.

For example: The un-awakened Soul observes the dramatic changes in the collective reality and cringes in fear. Thus, they create the next moment of their reality through a template of fear. Quite naturally, then, they experience successive moments that turn into minutes, hours and days of fear-based realities.

Another example: The awakened Soul welcomes the changes they observe, for they have helped to create them, consciously. They open up and receive nourishment from these changes, from the earth-shattering events. Can you guess how this is done?

Changing of the Guard - The Visionary Leader

The Changing of the Guard has occurred in the US. Many are celebrating the outcomes and many are cursing these results. As the Negative Media continue to misrepresent the facts of your Collective Realities, those of you who call this “news” will continue to create your skewed, fear-based realities. On the other hand, those of you who are turning off the news and going within for your “updates” will continue to create your realities through a template of Loving Understanding and Courage. You will lead by example, as Visionary Leaders do. You will exemplify the Virtues of Humanity, and in so doing, inhabit a Positive Reality that may even exist within the collective reality of the misguided naysayers. How is such a thing possible?

Secrets Revealed - Healing the Past

All around your great Earth, entitled humans of great estate are falling from their high places in government, in commerce, in religious institutions, in the institutions of high-celebrity. All secrets are revealed at this time of renewal and upheaval. You too are invited to access the deep secrets within your concealed identity – The Negative Persona. This holding place of all things shameful, hurtful and fearful is liberated at this time. The best you can do is to acknowledge these protected memories and heal them IN THE MOMENT. The moment of acknowledgment, then becomes the HEALING moment. Indeed, just as your reality is created in the moment of perception, so too is your personal healing created in this moment of perceiving The Negative Persona. The repressed becomes the ex-pressed as you lift your denial and identify yourself as a human, with those frailties that this entails. Heal thyself, Dear Reader, as the opportunity presents itself. Can you become your own healer in this way?

Goddess Rediscovered - GA Remembered

As a reader of my books, you already know that I identify the Divine Matriarchy as the seat of all civilizations. And it is during this current awakening that memories of your lives lived during the ancient civilization of GA come to mind. The balancing of the male and female energies within consciousness is cyclical. The patriarchy has predominated for generations. Now the matriarchy enters the collective consciousness via bleedthroughs from GA into this current timeframe. One becomes open to these bleedthroughs by asking for them, by praying for them and by magically invoking the appropriate Goddess figures, the non-physical gestalts of consciousness. Simply, one begins to feel receptive to Love, compassion, divine ardor. It is as though a distant planet has changed orbit and is coming closer to Earth. Are you open to this communication stream from this strange planet?

Expecting the Worst - Anticipating the Positive

By expecting the worst, you create it. Through anticipating a Positive Future, you create this expectation in fact. In fact, it is easier to create a Positive Future than to help re-cement in place a Negative Past that has out-lived its usefulness. Try it. You will see what I mean. Even in the midst of a perceived untenable situation - political, social, spiritual or other wise - you may easily create your Positive Future from those fearful elements you are encountering. In fact, your identity is motivated to create the positive from the negative experience. It can be no other way. Do you see?

Isolationist – Neo-tribal Collective

The trend at this time of renewal is to reach out and connect with the unknown, with the Other. Many of you are doing just that as you seek out others of your persuasion on the Internet. But the search for relationship will drive you out from in front of your computers and televisions into the marketplace, as they say. The Neo-tribal Collective is actually the ancient family collective that existed many, many years ago on your Earth. Again, bleedthroughs from those lives are being received by your antenna consciousness. To get things done, so to speak, you need others. So you put away your shyness, your tendency to isolate and brood, and you allow yourself to be vulnerable with other human beings, beyond your mate and your immediate family. This is the search for the Soul Family members who are looking for you, so that they may learn their Lessons with you. Will you find your greater Soul Family?

All of these dynamics will impact your world in the coming year. I will now attempt to predict some probable manifestations that may play out over the course of the coming year.

Probable Manifestations

Healthy Boundaries

The current trend of awakening humans providing appropriate boundaries for themselves in their personal and business lives will extend to nations, positively affecting immigration and empowering states rights.

Terrorist Attack/False Flag

I suggested in the 2017 Forecast that rogue elements in the CIA would carry out a terrorist attack in the US in that year. Did such an attack occur? For 2018 I see a lessening of that probability. I encourage the reader to do their own research.

Negative Media

The major institutions of Negative Media that I have discussed in past forecasts will falter and then fail in 2018. They will be replaced by responsible media outlets, for the most part. I encourage readers to support the alternative press and citizen journalists to assist in this process.

Earth Changes

I suggested in my forecast for 2017 that many volcanic eruptions would occur during that year. This trend will continue throughout 2018 and will include devastating earthquakes. I encourage the reader to do their own research.

Shadow Government

I suggested in 2017 that the Average Citizen would awaken to the existence of the Shadow Government that controls the US and the world. That recognition is ongoing and will continue throughout 2018.

Weather Modification

Weather modification and storm control is out of control at this time. The tipping point has already been reached, though you will not read about it anywhere. The subject of harmful chemtrails and the misuse of powerful Earth Change technologies will become hot topics in 2018.

Martial Law

I see the possibility of martial law being imposed briefly in 2018 for the public good, for the protection of the people, as the institutions of society and government are stabilized. At this time, however, I see it as not being necessary

Secrets Revealed Scandal

The Secrets Revealed phenomenon we have discussed over the last few years is intensifying and will continue through 2018. Powerful politicians, corporate leaders and celebrities worldwide will feel the heat of this revelation.
